    c) She added all of the programs then viewed the calendar without asking how to navigate to either page
    d) She asked how the programs were able to stay with the user. I explained how databases worked in the scope of this class
        i)   She said she would use it if everyone else on her team would use it. She wanted more of a social aspect of the program that would be able to interact with her teammates on like a chat level or to share photos of workouts ii)   We did not implement the social aspect because we had no time left
2) Andrews Roomate #2
    a) Username used

    b) Password
        i)   :ThisTestLOL
    c) She did not add all the test programs but she did add one then try to remove it because she was watching while my other roommate did the test. She didn't have any questions about the overall layout but shared the same concern for the social aspect
    d) Again...we did not have time to implement this due to the time factor
3) Andrews Senior Design Member

    b) Password
        i)   :why25
    c) He was about to not create a password with numbers so I made him add 25 to see if the hash still worked. He ran through the whole application and commented that the overall layout was funny because it was the same color as Wii Fit, the nintendo game. He said that the website would be nice if there were more picture integration. He liked the overall layout and user interface but kept commenting on the lack of images.
    d) We did not implement this because testing was done so late
